My Journey to the USA

My name is Julius (Julio) Cesar Ramirez, but my friends call me Julio, or JC. I was born and raised in Bogota, Colombia in South America and graduated from high school at 16 years old. My true love was art and music, and I felt sure that's what God wanted me to do. I thought I was a good Christian because my parents took me to church every Sunday morning to visit God in His house – the church.

One of the requirements to pursue my art degree was to take an anatomy class. I was overwhelmed by God's unique design to allow the body to move, the eyes to see and basically all the organs working together to make man a living being. Even though I really loved art and music, I felt my life could better serve the people in my life by studying medicine and becoming the best doctor I could become. I applied and was accepted to medical school and upon graduation, I became a trauma surgeon. I met my wife, Liliana Pinzon in medical school and she is a pediatrician.

In the 1990's Bogotá was one of the most violent cities in the world. Terrorism was at a all time high. I remember I had gone to a bakery one Saturday to get my mother a cake for Mother's Day and as I drove away from the bakery, I saw it blown up in my rear view mirror. Everyone around it was killed. I knew this was not a safe place to raise a family.

Doctors in Colombia were a target for the guerrillas, not because they make money with their profession but because they need them in the jungle to look after their casualties and injured members in combat. There was a high probability my wife and I both could be kidnapped and kept in cages with chains as prisoners and female doctors were always raped. My wife and I discussed our situation and what options we had and we decided to migrate to the USA in the area of Washington D.C.

I went to work as usual the next day, but not until I sent my wife and 4 1/2 year old daughter to another city where they would be safe until I could send for them to join me. At four o'clock that afternoon I flew into Washington D.C. to look for a safe place for our family to live.

The first thing I had to do was sign up for a class in English because Spanish was the only language I understood or spoke. I volunteered at George Washington University Hospital in the ICU and ER, so I could meet doctors and also practice my English. I bought a used car and a few things at a garage sale and lived out of my car for about four months. I took whatever jobs I could find to buy food and save to bring my family here with me.

Even though I was a licensed trauma surgeon in Colombia, I had to attend classes and pass all the same tests again before I could practice medicine here in the United States. My first certification was as a nurse, so I could work long hours in hospitals. I love helping people, and I continued to learn and study more medicine. God opened the door for me to make many friends here in my new home.

I learned they were looking for plastic surgeons in Florida, so I traveled there to try and work as a surgical assistant. I passed that test and began working right away. I was able to bring my wife and daughter to Florida to live with me after six months. That was a happy day for all of us.

I was never alone because I know that God was with me every step of the way and providing a way for me to help others and earn a living. When I left Colombia, I thought God lived in the church house because everyone called it God's house. I brought my Bible with me to America and had more time to study it here. After studying God's word, I realized that God wants to live in our hearts if we will only ask Him to come in. God sent His only son, Jesus to die on the cross to be the sacrifice for all our sins. Now I take God with me everywhere I go and worship Him by reading His word and helping others. That's what He commands us to

²⁷ He answered, “Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your strength and with all your mind; and, ‘Love your neighbor as yourself.’”

While I was in Florida I learned of a cruise ship that sailed through 32 countries in Europe and was looking for a ship's physician and accepted medical degrees from Colombia. I was accepted for the job. I sailed in the Mediterranean, Adriatic and Black Seas. It paid very well, but I was on call 24 hours a day. Not only was I the ships' doctor but sanitation director and anything else they asked me to do. When anyone dialed 911, I was the one who answered and took

Innocent Eyes

A merry heart doeth good like a medicine.
Proverbs 17:22

Several women, each trying to one-up the other, appeared in court, each accusing the others of causing the trouble they were having in the apartment building where they lived.

The judge, with Solomon-like wisdom decreed, "Okay, I'm ready to hear the evidence...I'll hear the oldest first."

The case was dismissed for lack of testimony.

When a guy's printer type began to grow faint, he called a local repair shop where a friendly man informed him that the printer probably needed only to be cleaned.

Because the store charged $50 for such cleanings, he told him he might be better off reading the printer's manual and trying the job himself.

Pleasantly surprised by his candor, he asked, "Does your boss know that you discourage business?"

"Actually, it's my boss's idea," the employee replied sheepishly.

"We usually make more money on repairs if we let people try to fix things themselves first."

My sister landed a good job with an accounting firm, and after a while she got a generous raise.

The day she found out about it, her husband picked her up from work, and they stopped for ice cream.

As they continued home, my sister blurted out, "Isn't it hard to believe that I have a job that pays this much money?"

Just then, she went to toss the last of her ice cream cone out the window.

However, the window was closed, and it smacked against the glass.

Her husband replied calmly, "Yes."

Todd's wife bought a new line of expensive cosmetics guaranteed to make her look years younger.

After a lengthy sitting before the mirror applying the "miracle" products, she asked, "Darling, honestly, what age would you say I am?"

Looking over her carefully, Todd replied, "Judging from your skin, twenty; your hair, eighteen; and your figure, 25."

"Oh, you flatterer!" she gushed.

"Hey, wait a minute!" Todd interrupted. "I haven't added them up yet."

It was the first camping experience for Jed.

As soon as he had pitched his tent, he went for a hike in the woods. In about fifteen minutes he rushed back into camp, bleeding and disheveled.

"What happened?" asked a fellow camper.

"I was chased by a black snake!" cried the frightened Jed.

The camper laughed and retorted, "A black snake isn't deadly."

"Listen," groaned Jed, "If he can make you jump off a fifty-foot cliff, he is!"

A police officer stops a blonde for speeding and asks her very nicely if he could see her driver's license.

She replied in a huff, "I wish you guys would get your act together! Just yesterday they took my license away and now today you expect me to show it to you?"

A girl was visiting her blonde friend, who had acquired two new dogs, and asked her what their names were.

The blonde responded by saying that one was named "Rolex" and one was named "Timex".

Her friend said, "Whoever heard of someone naming dogs like that?"

"Helllooooo...!" answered the blonde. "They're watchdogs."

A Highway patrolman pulled alongside a speeding car on the freeway.

Glancing at the car, he was astounded to see that the blonde behind the wheel was knitting!

Realizing that she was oblivious to his flashing lights and siren, the trooper cranked down his window, turned on his bullhorn and yelled, "PULL OVER!"

"NO!" the blonde yelled back, "IT'S A SCARF!"

A gorgeous young redhead goes into the doctor's office and said that her body hurt wherever she touched it.

"Impossible!" says the doctor. "Show me."

The redhead took her finger, pushed on her left shoulder and screamed, she pushed her elbow and screamed even more. She pushed her knee and screamed; likewise she pushed her ankle and screamed.

Everywhere she touched made her scream.

The doctor said, "You're not really a redhead, are you?"

"Well, no," she said, "I'm actually a blonde."

"I thought so," the doctor said, "Your finger is broken."

Why Did Jesus Fold His Napkin?

Why did Jesus fold the linen burial cloth after His resurrection? I never gave this much thought.

The Gospel of John (20:7) tells us that the napkin, which was placed over the face of Jesus, was not just thrown aside like the grave clothes.

The Bible takes an entire verse to tell us that the napkin was neatly folded, and was placed at the head of that tomb.

Early Sunday morning, while it was still dark, Mary Magdalene came to the tomb and found that the stone had been rolled away from the entrance.

She ran and found Simon Peter and the other disciple, the one whom Jesus loved. She said, "They have taken the Lord's body out of the tomb, and I don't know where they have put him!"

Peter and the other disciple ran to the tomb to see. The other disciple outran Peter and got there first. He stooped and looked in and saw the linen cloth lying there, but he didn't go in.

Then Simon Peter arrived and went inside. He also noticed the linen wrappings lying there, while the cloth that had covered Jesus' head was folded up and lying to the side.

Is this that important? Absolutely! Is it really significant? Yes!

In order to understand the significance of the folded napkin, you have to understand a little bit about Hebrew tradition of that day. The folded napkin had to do with the Master and Servant, and every Jewish boy knew this tradition.

When the servant set the dinner table for the master, he made sure that it was exactly the way the master wanted it. The table was furnished perfectly. The servant would then wait just out of sight, until the master had finished eating. The servant would not dare touch that table, until the master was finished.

Now if the master were done eating, he would rise from the table, wipe his fingers, his mouth, and clean his beard, and would wad up that napkin and toss it onto the table. The servant would then know to clear the table. For in those days, the wadded napkin meant, 'I'm done'. BUT if the master got up from the table folded his napkin, and laid it beside his plate, the servant would not dare touch the table, because...

The folded napkin meant, "I'm coming back!"

care of the problem. The cruise ship went bankrupt, and I returned to Washington, D.C. to work in medical research with the US Department of Defense at Walter Reed Institute of Research; I worked there for three years and am published in The American Journal for Tropical Medicines.

A classmate from my medical school in Colombia was graduating from the Baylor School of Medicine in Houston and invited our family to attend his graduation. My wife, daughter and my son who was only 15 days old and I drove to Houston for his graduation.

It was beautiful here with more hospitals than I had ever seen in one place. There were so many opportunities to work in medicine and help hurting people. Then we found Katy, Texas, the new west Houston medical center and fell in love with the work and the people.

We bought our home here and have lived in Katy for 11 years. My daughter is now in college at The University of Houston and my son is in junior high here in Katy. He plays the piano and sings beautifully and on Sunday afternoons we go to nursing homes in the area where he sings and plays the piano for the residents there. It is his way to give to others and show God's love for them.

I work with the Methodist West Hospital facility in Katy on Mondays and Wednesdays as an ICU nurse and as a physician's assistant the other days in surgery with Dr Oishi who performs neck and spine surgery. It is such a joy to see the patients heal and get better. I pray with the patients and tell them what God's word says about unforgiveness. So many illnesses are brought on by unforgiveness to others. When they let go of that bitterness they harbor, miraculous things begin to happen in their lives.

I thank God every day for the opportunity to live, work and worship here in The United States of America and especially the Houston area.

I still enjoy my art and music and have a Latin band here in Katy. It is called WOW because that's what we hope you think when you hear us play. May God bless the USA, land that we truly love.

Angels From Heaven

Over the last few years I have fallen in love with some of the Pure Flix Movies – God's Not Dead; God's Not Dead 2; and Do you Believe? The Christian rock group "The Newsboys" have sang and or appeared in these films and I really like their music.

Last December, my daughter, Holly presented me with 2 VIP tickets for us to see the Newsboys in San Antonio on her birthday, March 19. I've never been to a concert before and was a little nervous but really anxious to meet the newsboys and tell them what an awesome ministry they have and how they have touched so many lives.

I've often heard it said, "If it's too loud, you're too old." I was afraid that might be the case for me, but I was excited about our date and ready for whatever.

With the VIP pass, we were able to meet with a small group of only about 200 other people for questions and answers with the group and a photo opportunity to have our pictures taken with them. I've never done anything like that before, and I was really excited.

March 19 was on Sunday and also the end of Spring Break for most of the schools. We didn't allow for the bumper to bumper traffic of all the students returning from Spring break. We had to be there at 4 o'clock sharp to be seated in the small group with the band. With the unplanned for traffic, we were running about 20 minutes behind. We kept telling ourselves not to stress, that God was in total control and he had a plan. Sometimes doing that is easier said than done, but we continued to believe God was taking care of things for us.

Being in a wheelchair we were able to park in the handicap parking that was located in the basement and we were able to park right by the elevators. What a blessing. We were the only ones parked there and we were not in the normal flow of people going to the event. We tried several floors, but still not the right one. I told Holly to leave me there in my wheelchair and go find out where we needed to be so we wouldn't be any later.

The floor I was parked on was a empty utility floor except for 2 empty 18 wheelers parked there with the doors open and a ramp with more equipment on it but no one around. When I looked around, who should come walking but the lead singer of the Newsboys, Michael Tate. I smiled and said, "Hi, Michael." He walked over to my wheelchair and gave me a big ole hug. "Thank you so much for coming to our concert," he said. "That really means a lot to us." He asked my name and I told him we had brought gifts for the band and was able to give them to him to pass out later. Is God awesome or what.

When Holly returned with directions of where we should go, I told her I met Michael. When we got to the VIP gathering, there was about 200 people seated auditorium style and the band was seated on stage. Two people were walking around with microphones so the audience could ask the band members questions.

My favorite question was, "Are you working on God's Not Dead 3?" The reply was, "We cannot confirm or deny the trilogy of God's Not Dead. Sorry." That was the answer I was waiting on because if they were not working on it, they could have denied it with no problem. I can't wait.

After the Q and A the audience was to go to an upper floor to get their pictures made with the group. Since I was in the wheelchair, my only way up was on the small elevator and it was always full. When we finally did catch a ride to the correct floor, the photo session was over and the band had gone to get ready for the concert.

Not to be discouraged because God was still in charge. Holly's persistence finally got her to right person to talk to and when the band learned of our dilemma, they had us escorted into the green room with just the band, us and the photographer. Only God could have done that.

The concert was like nothing I have ever seen before, and I thoroughly enjoyed it. The amazing amount of lights that are perfectly synchronized to the music and the energy of the group was overwhelming. All their music was praises to God presented with a little different rhythm than I am accustomed to, but I really liked it. Between every couple of songs, Michael would give testimonies and he also had a little message about how much God loved all of us that really touched my heart. I felt like I had been in a fabulous praise service, because I had. I don't know how anyone could have left that event without Jesus in their heart.

I was also surprised in the wide range of people attending the event. I was expecting a bunch of enthusiastic young people, but the audience was filled with all ages of people from children 5 years and older up to older people like me in wheel chairs. I learned so much that night. The ministry the NEWBOYS has is so unlike the ministry of The Good News Just Keeps Coming. But it takes all kinds of venues to reach all kinds of people. The band members all truly love the Lord and are the same on stage as they are off stage –they are real! I also realized that if everyone that claimed to be a child of God shared His love as enthusiastically as this group, we would definitely see a better world. My weekend was filled with Hugs from Heaven that only God could have orchestrated.

Buttermilk Biscuits (3 ingredients)

- 1/2 cup butter (1 stick), frozen
- 2 1/2 cups self-rising flour
- 1 cup chilled buttermilk
- Parchment paper
- 2 tablespoons butter, melted

1. Preheat oven to 475°. Grate frozen butter using large holes of a box grater.
2. Toss together grated butter and flour in a medium bowl. Chill 10 minutes. Make a well in center of mixture. Add buttermilk, and stir 15 times. Dough will be sticky.
3. Turn dough out onto a lightly floured surface. Lightly sprinkle flour over top of dough. Using a lightly floured rolling pin, roll dough into a 3/4-inch-thick rectangle (about 9 x 5 inches). Fold dough in half so short ends meet. Repeat rolling and folding process 4 more times.
4. Roll dough to 1/2-inch thickness. Cut with a 2 1/2-inch floured round cutter, reshaping scraps and flouring as needed.
5. Place dough rounds on a parchment paper-lined jelly-roll pan. Bake at 475° for 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Brush with melted butter.

For Crunchy-Bottomed Biscuits: Warm a cast-iron skillet in the oven and spread a bit of butter in the skillet before adding the biscuits. The bottoms will end up crunchy and golden brown and provide a sturdy base that holds up to a smothering of sausage gravy.

The next evening, when the Sabbath ended, Mary Magdalene and Salome and Mary, the mother of James went out and purchased burial spices to put on Jesus body. Very early on Sunday morning, just at sunrise, they came to the tomb. On the way there they were discussing who would roll the stone away from the entrance to the tomb. But when they arrived, they looked up and saw the stone, a very large one, had already been rolled aside. So they entered the tomb, and there on the right sat a young man clothed in a white robe. The women were startled, but the angel said, "Do not be so surprised. You are looking for Jesus, the Nazarene; who was crucified. He isn't here. He has been raised from the dead! Look this is where they laid his body."

The Pastor's Cat

This particular story just made me laugh. Every time I think about it, the vision of that poor cat just amuses me to no end. Whoever said the Creator doesn't have a sense of humor?

Dwight Nelson recently told a true story about the pastor of his church. He had a kitten that climbed up a tree in his backyard and then was afraid to come down. The pastor coaxed, offered warm milk, etc.

The kitty would not come down. The tree was not sturdy enough to climb, so the pastor decided that if he tied a rope to his car and pulled it until the tree bent down, he could then reach up and get the kitten.

That's what he did, all the while checking his progress in the car. He then figured if he went just a little bit further, the tree would be bent sufficiently for him to reach the kitten. But as he moved the car a little further forward, the rope broke.

The tree went 'boing!' and the kitten instantly sailed through the air - out of sight.

The pastor felt terrible. He walked all over the neighborhood asking people if they'd seen a little kitten. No. Nobody had seen a stray kitten. So he prayed, 'Lord, I just commit this kitten to your keeping,' and went on about his business.

A few days later he was at the grocery store, and met one of his church members. He happened to look into her shopping cart and was amazed to see cat food. This woman was a cat hater and everyone knew it, so he asked her,

Why are you buying cat food when you hate cats so much?"

She replied, "You won't believe this," and then told him how her little girl had been begging her for a cat, but she kept refusing. Then a few days before, the child had begged again, so the Mom finally told her little girl, "Well, if God gives you a cat, I'll let you keep it." She told the pastor, "I watched my child go out in the yard, get on her knees, and ask God for a cat. And really, Pastor, you won't believe this, but I saw it with my own eyes. A kitten suddenly came flying out of the blue sky, with its paws outspread, and landed right in front of her."

Never underestimate the Power of God nor His unique sense of humor.

 Eva's Inspirations

Jesus

They crucified Him once He suffered and He died, Those who loved Him watched with tears falling from their eyes.
 Jesus did it all for us and He would do it all again,
 Just so we could be forgiven of all of our sins.
 He walked the road ahead carrying His cross,
 Knowing how he would suffer for us He paid the cost.
 It was so many years ago but stays always on my mind,
 How could I ever forget He is with me all the time.
 Still today there are some that turn their backs on Him,
 But never will they ever crucify Him again.
 Like me so many are so grateful for everything He's done,
 One day everyone will know He is the saving one.
 Gods promises are true in this changing world today,
 When it comes to my Savior I'll worship Him every day.

Learning to Swim

I was a kid trying to balance macho and anxiety that day as my dad taught me to swim in the muddy creek. I stepped in, stiff as a pine log. "Relax, son," my dad said. "I'll put my arms under you, and when you begin to sink, I'll be right there." I started sinking, but felt his sturdy arms holding me up. Everything changed knowing his arms were there. I trusted, relaxed, and luxuriated in the security of the arms holding me up. Remember when you "swim" life's deep holes and muddy waters that your Father's arms are just below the surface.

"The eternal God is a dwelling place, And underneath are the everlasting arms; And He drove out the enemy from before you, And said, 'Destroy!'" - Deuteronomy 33:27
