HUGS from Heaven

God gives us new blessings at each stage of our lives. First, God blessed me with two beautiful daughters and they are the joy of my life. Just when I thought it couldn't get any better, God gave me my first grandchild, 27 years ago. I knew I had reached the pinnacle of life when Mathew was born. I couldn't imagine anything any better than this until my next grandson, Michael was born. If one is great, two is even greater. Over the years God has blessed me with seven wonderful grandchildren and each of them is very dear to me. They have all grown into mature, responsible and caring citizens of this world and I am so proud of all of them.

Just when I thought life couldn't get any better, God had a new blessing in store for me. On Monday, September 14, 2015, at 5:54 in the afternoon, a voice that had never been heard on earth before was heard at the Methodist hospital in Sugar Land, Texas. Matthew's beautiful wife, Lara gave birth to their first child, Parker Louise Ondruch. She weighed 7 lbs 6 oz and was 19 inches long.

Mathew is a paramedic fire-fighter with the city of Katy and has helped to deliver several babies in his profession. He was allowed to wear a surgical uniform and be in the operating room when Parker made her entrance into this world. She is beautiful and perfect in every way. As soon as she was cleaned up, he held this precious miracle God had created just for them. Parker immediately reached her tiny little fingers and held his index finger with all her strength. Matthew cried for joy seeing the amazing person God had created just for them and of course all of the grandparents, great grandparents and great great grandparents, along with aunts and uncles and the entire family cried for joy, too. Realizing this perfect creation from God had just left His presence and held on tightly to her Dad and clung tightly to her Mother as Lara held her, brought new joys and tears to everyone.

Children, grand children and great grandchildren are such wonderful blessings God gives us along our way. Each one seems to get better and better and it thrills me to know the joys this little baby will bring to the entire family. What a big hug from heaven the whole family received this month. Welcome to earth baby Parker Louise Ondruch. We all love you so much.

Innocent Eyes

A merry heart doeth good like a medicine.

Proverbs 17:22

It was the first camping experience for Jed. As soon as he had pitched his tent, he went for a hike in the woods. In about fifteen minutes he rushed back into camp, bleeding and disheveled.

"What happened?" asked a fellow camper.

"I was chased by a black snake!" cried the frightened Jed.

The camper laughed and retorted, "A black snake isn't deadly."

"Listen," groaned Jed, "If he can make you jump off a fifty-foot cliff, he is!"

A shy little 4-year-old came in to the dentist for his first cleaning and check-up.

The hygienist tried to strike up a conversation but no response. After the cleaning, the dentist was called in to do the final check. The dentist tried to strike up a conversation as well.

"How old are you?" No response.

The dentist then asked, "Don't you know how old you are?"

Immediately four tiny fingers went up.

"Oh," replied the dentist, "and do you know how old that is?"

Four little fingers went up once again.

Continuing the effort to get a response, the dentist asked, "Can you talk?"

The solemn little patient looked at him and asked, "Can you count?"

As a new bride, Aunt Edna moved into the small home on her husband's ranch near Snowflake. She put a shoe box on a shelf in her closet and asked her husband never to touch it.

For fifty years Uncle Jack left the box alone, until Aunt Edna was old and dying. One day when he was putting their affairs in order, he found the box again and thought it might hold something important.

Opening it, he found two doilies and $82,500 in cash. He took the box to her and asked about the contents. "My mother gave me that box the day we married," she explained.

"She told me to make a doily to help ease my frustrations every time I got mad at you."

Uncle Jack was very touched that in 50 years she'd only been mad at him twice.

"What's the $82,500 for?" he asked.

"Oh, that's the money I made selling the doilies."

Betty was soon to be married. More than anything, she wanted to wear the wedding dress her mother was married in. Betty's mother was beaming with pride as she gave her consent.

Later in the evening, the family gathered in the living room to wait while Betty tried on the dress.

When Betty entered the room, there was a chorus of approval. The dress fit perfectly and looked wonderful on her.

Tears ran down the face of Betty's mother.

Seeing this, Betty said, "Don't worry Mom, you're not losing a daughter, your gaining a son."

"Forget about that!" she said with a sob.

"I used to fit into that dress!"

A little old lady sold pretzels on a street corner for 25 cents each. Every day a young man would leave his office building at lunch time and, as he passed her pretzel stand, he would leave her a quarter, but would never take a pretzel.

This went on for more than five years. The two of them never spoke.

One day as the man passed the old ladies pretzel stand and left his quarter as usual, the pretzel woman spoke to him, "Sir, I appreciate your business. You are a good customer, but I have to tell you that the pretzel price has increased to 35 cents."

Eleven people were hanging on a rope, under a helicopter, 10 men and 1 woman.

The rope was not strong enough to carry them all, so they decided that one had to leave, because otherwise they were all going to fall. They weren't able to choose that person, until the woman gave a very touching speech.

She said that she would voluntarily let go of the rope, because, as a woman, she was used to giving up everything for her husband and kids or for men in general, and was used to always making sacrifices with little in return.

As soon as she finished her speech, all the men started clapping.

Do Unto Others

This evening as I was leaving Best Buy, I noticed this man going through the garbage can outside of the store. As I walked to my car I watched him as he reached in the garbage can and pulled out fast food trash bags and inspected all that was in the thrown away bags. He did this for several minutes. He would find a few fries in one bag and a bite or two of a hamburger in another bag. You can see the hamburger wrapper by his knee where he was placing the food items he'd found.

He never bothered anyone or tried to stop and beg for money as people entered and left the store. After he went through the entire trash can he neatly cleaned up the area and wrapped up the food he found in the dirty hamburger wrapper. My heart literally hurt for him. I am not someone who just hands out money or even helps homeless people because so many are not truly homeless. I don't guess I've ever seen someone actually go through a garbage can to try to find food to eat.

I knew I had to help him. I got out of my car and asked him if I could buy him something to eat. He told me he would appreciate anything I could get him. He was on a bike and I told him if he'd follow me I'd buy him a meal at the fast food place around the block. He followed me and I bought him the biggest meal they had on the menu. The only request he gave me for his order was if I could get him a big glass of sweet tea to go with his meal! When I brought him his food, he was so thankful. He told me his name was Steve and he'd been homeless ever since his sister died last September. He was trying to get off the streets, but it was so hard. I told him God loved him and I would pray for him. He told me again how much he appreciated the meal.

When I got back in my car, I drove

Nine Things God Won't Ask You When You Meet Him Face to Face

1.... God won't ask what kind of car you drove. He'll ask how many people you drove who didn't have transportation..

2.... God won't ask the square footage of your house, He'll ask how many people you welcomed into your home.

3.... God won't ask about the clothes you had in your closet, He'll ask how many you helped to clothe.

4.... God won't ask what your highest salary was. He'll ask if you compromised your character to obtain it.

5.... God won't ask what your job title was. He'll ask if you performed your job to the best of your ability.

6.... God won't ask how many friends you had. He'll ask how many people to whom you were a friend.

7.... God won't ask in what neighborhood you lived, He'll ask how you treated your neighbors.

8.... God won't ask about the color of your skin, He'll ask about the content of your character.

9.... God won't ask why it took you so long to seek Salvation. If you've asked Him into your heart, He'll lovingly take you to your mansion in Heaven, and not to the gates of Hell.

The Black Dots In Life

One day, a professor entered the classroom and asked his students to prepare for a surprise test. They all waited anxiously at their desks for the exam to begin.

The professor handed out the exam with the text facing down, as usual. Once he handed them all out, he asked the students to turn over the papers. To everyone's surprise, there were no questions – just a black dot in the center of the sheet of paper. The professor, seeing the expression on everyone's faces, told them the following: "I want you to write about what you see there."

The students, confused, got started on the inexplicable task. At the end of the class, the professor took all the exams, and started reading each one of them out loud, in front of all of the students. All of them, with no exception, defined the black dot, trying to explain its position in the center of the sheet.

After all had been read, the professor started to explain: "I'm not going to grade you on this, I just wanted to give you something to think about. No one wrote about the white part of the paper. Everyone focused on the black dot – and the same happens in our lives. We have a white piece of paper to observe and enjoy, but we always focus on the dark spots.

Our life is a gift given to us with love and care and we always have reasons to celebrate – nature renewing itself every day, our friends, the job that provides our livelihood. However, we insist on focusing only on the dark spots – health issues that bother us, the lack of money, a complicated relationship with a family member, the disappointment with a friend. Take your eyes away from the black dots in your life. Enjoy each one of your blessings and each moment that life gives you."

"Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things. Those things, which ye have both learned, and received, and heard, and seen in me, do: and the God of peace shall be with you."

If YES, call me.

Most people find themselves in places that don't seem all that spiritual or worshipful: classes that seem pointless apart from logging new information or filling the time; circumstances that don't appear to have any eternal significance at all. If you've ever felt like that, I've got great news. You can worship God wherever you are, doing whatever it is you do!

That's the beautiful thing about continual praise. Your attitude of worship can turn any mundane task into an offering to God. Worship can even happen at the photocopier machine. It did for me.

As a college student in Atlanta, I worked part-time at the Centers for Disease Control, pretty impressive, huh? There I was stemming the spread of infectious diseases, developing groundbreaking technologies to improve life and alleviate human suffering! Well, not exactly.

To be precise, I was the photocopier boy in the Centers' medical library. My main activity was making photocopies of the hundreds of articles that various doctors wanted for their personal use. I didn't exactly have an office—more of a cubbyhole. The photocopier was in a four-by-eight-foot room beneath a stairway at the back of the library. The slanted ceiling dropped below head height on one side. The room overflowed with carts loaded with medical journals waiting to be copied, each having white slips of paper sticking out of them, telling me what to do next.

Hour after hour after hour, it was just me and that machine. Day after day, the requests piled up. The copying continued. But God was doing a lot in my heart in those days, and the job for me became something more. I'm not trying to over-spiritualize what happened (we didn't end up having a revival in the library), but by God's grace, I was able to turn that copy room into a place I loved. For one thing, I wanted to be the best copier on earth, never leaving work until every waiting article was reproduced, something that often required improvements in my technique, speed, and productivity. I would not be denied.

Making the Mundane a Melody

But also, this job gave me lots of time to hang out with God. Photocopying, though manually intensive, doesn't overly deplete the brain, which left lots of time for thoughts of God; time to talk to Him, time to worship, time to listen, time to pray. Everyone working there knew I was a believer, but they weren't exactly asking me to lead a Bible study or talk about the Savior. My witness was my work, and work was my worship. The way I did my work was possibly even more significant than anything I could do or say I became, to put it modestly, the master copier. And you know what? I think the way I did my work reflected something good about the character of God. When I left, it took three new employees to match my pace! And who knows, one of those articles might have contributed to the untangling of some global disease. (For that, you can thank me later!)

The point is this: everything on earth (except sin) can be done as an act of worship to God. Everything we do is worship when we do it for Him, displaying His face as we go. That, by the way, is why we don't want to sin. Because sin is the one thing that cannot be done in such a way that it brings honor and glory to God. In fact, sin is just the opposite. When we choose to do things our own way, we are saying to God and the world around us that our God is not good enough to lead our lives and meet our needs. But everything else besides sin can be turned into worship as we do it in such a way as to reflect His character.

Yep, the way you do your work at school can and should be worship. The way you fry the fries can be, too, as you run the drive-through window at Chick-Fil-A. Your attitude toward your parents can be an act of worship, or the way you practice or going out of your way to volunteer at the homeless shelter, these are all a part of what the verse means when it says, "And do not neglect doing good and sharing, for with such sacrifices God is pleased."

The question is not what you do, but who you do it for. Your mission is to turn your place in life into a place of true worship. To do whatever you do in a way that will reflect God's heart to those around you. Your mission is to worship with everything you say and all you do.

"Through Jesus, therefore, let us continually offer to God a sacrifice of praise—the fruit of lips that openly profess his name. And do not forget to do good and to share with others, for with such sacrifices God is pleased."

Crazy Coconut Pie

Crust:

- 1 cup coconut
- 1/4 cup melted butter

Mix together and press into 9" pie plate and slightly upside sides. Bake 20-25 minutes in 300 oven until dark golden brown.

Filling:

- 3/4 cup sugar
- 2 tsp. butter
- 3 tbsp. corn starch
- 2 tsp. Mexican vanilla
- 2 cups milk
- 1 1/2 tsp. coconut extract
- 3 eggs separated
- 1 cup coconut

Mix sugar, cornstarch and milk in saucepan on medium heat. Stir until mixture boils and thickens, about 10-15 minutes. Put egg yolks in a small cup and mix some of the hot mixture into them. Mix yolk mixture into pan and cook about 1 more minute. Remove from heat and add butter, vanilla, coconut extract and coconut. Pour into coconut crust.

Meringue:

- 1 tbsp. cornstarch
- 3 tsp. water
- 1/2 cup water
- 3 egg whites
- 6 tbsp. sugar

Dissolve cornstarch in 3 tsp. water. Boil 1/2 cup water and then add dissolved cornstarch. Cook one minute. Remove from heat and let cool. I spread on a glass plate and place in the fridge while I beat the egg whites. Beat egg whites until stiff. Add sugar and beat until stiff. Add cooked mixture and beat until smooth. (I usually double the meringue.) Put on pie and bake until the shade of brown you like at 350. I bake mine about 10-15 minutes.

With His Heart

With a heart filled with love, so faithful and true,
 God took His time as He lovingly made you.
 Making sure everything was in the right place,
 Knowing His child would need plenty of grace.
 He poured out His compassion for all of your life,
 So you would always know with Him you'd be all right.
 As He created you He knew your life had a plan,
 That came from him and not one of man's.
 With His heart He gave you the freedom to chose,
 And with love He is watching what His child will do.

off with such a heaviness in my heart for this man. I drove down the road and felt compelled to go back to help this man. When I came back he had finished his meal and was riding away. I pulled up beside him and asked him if there was any way I could help him. He told me not really. He never asked me for money. I asked him if I could buy him a few meals and put it on a gift card for him. He told me that would be so kind. I drove to McDonalds and bought him some meals and gave him a gift card.

He broke down crying. He told me that he prayed for me today! I wasn't sure what he meant (I was assuming he was praying for me for what I did for him) so I thanked him. He said, "No, you don't understand. I prayed that God would send someone to buy me a hot meal today...and he sent you!" I didn't know what to say...I was speechless! Praying for a hot meal wasn't a prayer I had prayed today! Come to think of it, that's not a prayer I've ever prayed! I always pray over my food, but I've never prayed for a meal...its expected! I've never doubted that I wouldn't be able to eat...Tears began to fill my eyes! Oh my...how blessed am I... Maybe God used me to answer this man's prayer...to let him know that He cares for Him and knows what goes going through! But, maybe God used this man to show me just how blessed I am and what I take for granted...

He said, "You see, I have cancer!" He pulled up his shirt and pointed to a huge mass that was poking out from his stomach. He said he knew it wouldn't be much longer. I asked him if knew Jesus. He told me that he did. I asked if I could pray for him and he said that I could. We prayed right there on the sidewalk of McDonalds. Tears just poured from his eyes. He told me he knew that he was going to die and that he was ready to die. He was tired of being in pain and he would be better off dead because this was no life - living this way. I stayed and encouraged him for a few minutes trying to fight back my tears. My prayer is that I showed him the love of Jesus today...that something I said gave him a hope.

You see, everybody has a story! I know Steve's story now...all because I felt compelled to help him...he ended up touching me today!

When I left him, I knew I had done what God wanted me to do! God put him in my path today...I know he did! I've never felt such a feeling to help someone as I did today. I was reminded again of how blessed I am! I have a vehicle that gets me from place to place, I have a roof over my head, clean clothes, money to buy a hot meal, running water, electricity, my health, a job, family, and friends! Sometimes God sends situations our way to remind us of how blessed we are! Please remember Steve in your prayers!

Yes, I have been blessed; God's so good to me!
